40 Years of Impact

The roots of ARBI were planted in 1972 when Audrey Morrice uttered four simple words, "I can help you." She was speaking to her friend Alice Laine's son Mel as he lay in a comatose state in the hospital. Critically injured by a hit-and-run driver, Mel sustained a severe brain injury. His family was given no hope for his recovery. Then Audrey blurted out those now famous words ...

For 40 years, Audrey's vision and compassion has affected thousands of lives – clients and families alike. Our community partners, donors, volunteers and friends have donned this mantle and helped continue Audrey's legacy – this is YOUR impact.
